Fall 2011

Communication Is The Key!

My message to all NCPAA members is to keep all methods of communications open and the need for keeping all of us informed. We tend to work so hard at keeping the channels of communications open with our communities and alumni that we tend to forget that the NCPAA is also our community.

“Home Page.” This says a lot about how Sheriff Enoch George supports this program and illustrates his commitment in partnering with his community. Their CPA efforts are really great.

Third Stop: Midwest City, Oklahoma:

<http://midwestcityok.org/mwc-police-department-accepting-applications-for-citizens-academy>. Lt. David Huff and the Midwest City Police Department is going strong and is currently accepting applications for its upcoming Citizen’s Academy, which begins on September 8 and runs through December 15. It should also be noted that Midwest City lead one of the largest groups to attend and participate in an NCPAA Conference last May in Baton Rouge, LA

Fourth and Last Stop: Arlington Heights, IL CPAAA:

<http://www.ahcpaaa.org/>. Not only is this an extremely active alumni association but their newsletter really gets the message out on partnering with their Arlington Heights Police Department/officers, FOP, and City. This is a great poster planner for new or start-up alumni websites. Also, I would like to welcome Arlington Heights CPAAA as our first organizational/business membership recipient.

Final Thoughts: The association’s website, located at www.nationalcpaa.org has been updated with information and new links for CPA

NCPAA GOING ELECTRONIC TO SUPPLEMENT OUR POSTAL MAILINGS:

Move over postal mailings, our electronic sharing will be a partner as we head to the future. Your NCPAA is now available by:

- *Website (www.nationalcpaa.org) Ncpaa
- *Electronic E-mails from our Newsletter Editor/Board
- *Most recently, through Face Book “Ncpaa” (developed and maintained by Director Richard Hughes)

Don’t worry!! For those who currently don’t have these electronic capabilities, the Newsletter will still be available to you via the postal method. This isn’t new stuff to some of us.

Over the course of the last several years, I have made a habit of checking at least four (4) L.E./CPAAA websites a month to see what is happening locally around the US and beyond. Four of my recent finds of treasure activities include:

First Stop is Franklin, Tennessee: <http://www.franklin-gov.com/index.aspx?page=762> not only is the website current and very informative, wouldn’t each of us like to have this problem: Posting from Franklin Police Department’s Citizens Survey/Form Review- Police Academy: We are sorry but the class is full! Please reapply in the spring of 2012!

Second Stop, we stay in Tennessee with Maury County Sheriff’s Department. <http://www.maurycounty-tn.gov/sheriff/sheriff.htm>. Chief Deputy Nathan Johns and Deputy Mike Barnes have their CPA logo and information link right on the
