Why Is This Horse Blue?

by: Jayne Ford
2015 NCPAA Conference Co-Chair
Lexington Police Department CPAAA

We are now less than 200 days until the Lexington, Kentucky CPAAA will welcome you to the heart of the Bluegrass for the best and most exciting NCPAA conference yet! Our committees are working hard on providing you with a taste of our southern hospitality, as well as exciting classes and workshops that you will love and learn so much.

We have 92 very dedicated members of our alumni association who have enthusiastically enlisted to be on our 11 committees to make not only the process as fluid and smooth for us in planning, but also to ensure your first class experience be seamless once you arrive in what USA Today calls one of the “10 Best Bucket List U.S. Landmarks” visit: http://www.usatoday.com/story/travel/destinations/10great_places/2014/07/11/10-best-us-landmarks/12308671/

Our alumni, community partners, and our awesome Lexington Division of Police are standing with us to support our efforts by paying attention to every detail to make this an outstanding conference. Our committee meetings become more captivating every month as schedules and activities are solidified. Registration forms are now available on our website. <http://www.lexcpaaa.org>

The link below provided by The Lexington Convention & Visitors Bureau (LCVB) will provide you with a whimsical tour of modern day Lexington as seen in the eyes (via time travel) of our most famous senator Henry Clay, known as “The great Compromiser”. Come see why Lexington, with all we have to offer, is now being called “Boom Town”. Visit- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vCPZB7KNnhM>

We just finished attending the mid-year board meeting with the NCPAA Board of Directors and we can tell you, there will be something for everyone! Whether you are in law enforcement or a civilian, a coordinator or alumni, the topics at the conference are varied and will be very informative.

Of course, most of you who have been involved
